Peace Park

2 Hours suggested

The Mabuni Peace Park, located in Okinawa's Mabuni hills, commemorates the final World War II battle on the island. The museum offers narratives of the war, personal stories, and the impact of the U.S. military. Key exhibits include a replica Okinawan cave and stones engraved with names of fallen soldiers. The park features walkways, rest areas, and libraries for reflection. English translations and a post-war town exhibit from the 60s and 70s are available for visitors.
